Our aspiration is to always to be your clinic of choice and provide a reliable and affordable service in all things. It all starts with care.

LASADERM LAUNCHES ITS SURGICAL ARM/TREATMENTS

Cosmetic Surgery is an important decision and requires a lot of consideration and research into your chosen procedure. We understand the importance of choosing the right cosmetic surgery procedure for your individual needs and we will take the time to discuss all the options available to you, and give you personal, comprehensive advice. We also know that cosmetic surgery is about more than just enhancing your appearance - it's about renewing and rebuilding confidence in your own skin. Whether it's a mini facelift, breast augmentation, eye bag removal, or a tummy tuck, we're dedicated to giving you the trusted care you need.

At LasaDerm, there's no rush or pressure to have cosmetic surgery right away. We provide a free consultation to make sure that you know exactly what to expect from your surgery. We will always ensure your cosmetic surgery experience is as worry free as possible, which is why we provide you with all the relevant information every step of the way.

We've seen a rise in the number of people travelling abroad to have plastic surgery. The cheaper costs may be tempting, but consider the risks. Cosmetic surgery trips are marketed as vacations, but vacation activities should be avoided after surgery in order to ensure proper healing and reduce the risk of complications. Furthermore there may be no legal recourse if surgical negligence occurs. Your bargain surgery may not be a bargain.

Our aim is to take that temptation away and provide quality plastic surgery, with experienced surgeons, in Milton Keynes, at a fair price.

If you are considering plastic surgery, we believe that we are one of the safest and best choices. But don't take our word for it, why not book a consultation and see for yourself.

'Caring' homeless man is found dead

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

TRIBUTES have been pouring in for a 33-year-old man who was found dead outside The Church of Christ The Cornerstone in CMK on Monday.

Homeless Tony Porter was known to Milton Keynes Council (MKC), which is now preparing a new rough sleeping strategy to tackle issues in the city.

The family of Mr Porter, who battled to keep in touch with him over the years, have been left devastated by the news of his death.

His sister Maria, 35, from Corby, said: "He got himself in trouble but he was genuine and he did all he could for other people."

"He always smiled no matter what was going on."

His cousin, Jodie Hill, 27, from London, who has set up a JustGiving page to help pay for his funeral, added: "He was such a lovely boy and really cheeky, with a great sense of humour. The family want to thank all the people that knew and helped him in Milton Keynes, we didn't realise how popular he was but it is not surprising."

Paramedics arrived at the scene at about 10.18am after reports Mr Porter had stopped breathing. When they arrived they found he was already dead.

On OneMK's Facebook page Phill Pedder said: "The system let him down. I knew him for a few years and always went out of my way to help him. Gutted that the system failed him."

Colin Nelson added: "I counted Tony Porter as a friend. He was one of the good guys. He should not have had to die this way. I'm going to miss him."

Mr Porter's close friend, Ricky Oates, told OneMK that he often had seizures when he tried to stop drinking. "I had known Tony for nearly 10 years and when I myself became homeless two years ago it was Tony who allowed me to sleep next to him so that I didn't get lonely or get attacked," he said.

"Tony suffered with seizures, in particular when he tried to stop drinking, so I think maybe this happened on Monday as I saw him on Sunday and he didn't look very well."

"The main thing I will remember Tony for is that he was caring, friendly, funny and very generous to the point that other homeless people would use Tony to get his money.

"It is really sad to think that Tony died in the way he did on his own."

Mr Oates, 30, who now lives in emergency accommodation, is calling on the council to not let Tony's death be in vain.

Council leader Pete Marland said: "This is a very sad case and my deepest sympathy is with Tony's family and friends."

"Tony was known to MKC and was offered assistance on a number of occasions."

"Sadly, rough sleeping is an issue that often isn't simply about homelessness, there are often complex issues such as drug and alcohol dependency, mental illness or domestic abuse. MKC and other partners do offer help and advice. Sadly, we can't force people to take help. We are currently preparing a new rough sleeping strategy that will help in tackling this issue."

Out of respect for Mr Porter, his family and friends, the council and its partners have postponed a previously planned day of engagement with rough sleepers in Milton Keynes that was due to take place today.

Bidding war to start with new taxi app

IMAGINE being able to compare taxi prices for the cheapest journey? Well that could about to become a reality.

A new taxi app is set to be launched in April.

Titled BidTaxi, it will allow users to make a booking and have the five closest drivers bid for your custom.

The price and time of arrival will be listed for each and after 45 seconds, users can then select the best deal.

David Wright, 49, the entrepreneur behind BidTaxi, is from Old Farm Park and is determined to make the app a success in his home town.

He said: "We are a unique service that aims to avoid customers getting ripped off and give them the best possible price."

"Drivers get extra work, while providers get a cut of the income. It is a win-win for everyone."

"I want BidTaxi to be a proof of concept and where better to do that than in Milton Keynes?"

BidTaxi will be free to download and payments to drivers can be made in cash.

from those who – 20 years' later – still hold our Shenley nursery in high regard and would encourage people to share their memories on our Facebook and Twitter pages."

Rugby leaves 'cash penalty'

BY JESSICA DUNCAN

jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

A RESIDENT has raised concerns about extra costs of nearly £400,000 to Milton Keynes Council (MKC) caused by the Rugby World Cup (RWC).

Paul Griffiths, from Newton Longville, questioned council leader Pete Marland at a meeting last Wednesday.

He said: "I appreciate that the event may have brought a lot of money into the city, press quotes suggest up to £10million. However, there was a report to cabinet on February 8 that stated an overspend of £194,000 against budget due to the RWC and a further £200,000 from 'lower than anticipated' sales at the Fanzone."

"The issue here is the ability of MKC to successfully manage large-scale events within their allocated budget."

Cllr Marland said technically it was not an overspend and extra charges to the council were because the two events at the Fanzone in Campbell Park – Will Young and the 80s Line Out – organised by The Parks Trust, did not sell as many tickets as expected.

He said: "MKC worked well with all our partners to deliver the single biggest event in our history. Overall, MKC delivered what we said we would, we did it well and we did so on budget."

"Unfortunately in the end, we did have to finance the Fanzone which, while it was enjoyed by thousands of people, the tickets for the two events did not sell as well as organisers had hoped and we had underwritten the cost. But the fact remains hosting the RWC was one of the biggest things we are likely to do."

The Parks Trust declined to comment.

Appeal: Members of the public donated cash to buy Casey a replacement quad bike

Disabled lad gets new quad bike

A NETHERFIELD mum is thankful to all who donated to buy her disabled son a quad bike after the original was stolen.

As OneMK previously reported, Irene Ware was 'heartbroken' after nine-year-old Casey's custom Hawk Moto was taken.

But after reading the story, John and Margaret Mann – owners of The ReUse Community Project in Kiln Farm – were inspired to launch an appeal to buy him a replacement. Members of the public donated, and Casey was thrilled with the new bike.

Irene said: "We appreciate everyone who donated – I think it will restore Casey's faith in people."

Midwife given caution order

BY JESSICA DUNCAN

jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

A MIDWIFE who was working at Milton Keynes University Hospital has been given an 18-month caution order after failing to take blood sugar readings for a baby with a diabetic mother.

Clare Davis was reported to the Nursing and Midwifery Council (NMC) in September, 2013 after claims that at the hospital on March 11-12 that year she failed to take bloods of one baby and falsified blood sugar readings for that baby (Baby I) and another baby (Baby B).

But at an NMC hearing that finished on Thursday, only one of the charges was proved against Mrs Davis – failing to take adequate and/or necessary blood sugar readings and/or ensuring that such blood readings were taken for Baby I.

The panel felt the other two charges that Mrs Davis falsified blood readings for Baby I and Baby B could not be proved.

It was concluded by the panel of experts that there 'is a real risk of repetition' of Mrs Davis' actions and 'she did lack insight into her misconduct'.

Her 18-month caution order means she can still practise as a midwife but the order will remain on her file for that time.

The report published on the NMC's website added: "The panel acknowledged that there was evidence of some reflection on Mrs Davis' part during the trust investigation, however, it was limited. In her evidence to the panel, Mrs Davis maintained that she had not made a mistake."

"The panel therefore concluded that Mrs Davis has not demonstrated sufficient insight into her failings and consequently the risk of repetition remains."

"Having regard to all the circumstances of the case, the panel was satisfied that Mrs Davis' fitness to practise is currently impaired."

Milton Keynes University Hospital had not commented on the case before going to press.

Marcus needs help not jail

I HAVE just read the article regarding Marcus Etienne and quite frankly I'm disgusted, the man needs help not incarceration.

I first met this man about 18 years ago, he approached me for money and I told him I would give him a job at which he snarled, 'I can't work man'. Over the subsequent years, I would see him going about his 'craft' but it was always apparent to anyone with a modicum of sense that Marcus is mentally ill and needed to be sectioned and helped.

I live in Sheffield now and the last time I saw him was on a dismal evening walking up the H6 near Shenley Brook End on my way to Sheffield. I turned round and stopped him, asked if he was okay, he said 'yeah man'. I asked if he was okay for cash. He replied 'if you got some can I [borrow] some', at which point I laughed and pulled out a £20 note.

I've had mental illness in the past, it ain't pretty but thank the Lord I had help and went onto prosper.

Regarding the comment from the police, they should be ashamed. Far from it showing a deterrent it shows an unkind and indifferent approach to people who sometimes just need our help.

Rubbish facts

REFERRING to Chris Fodden's Facebook note on rubbish collections, he clearly does not know much about the subject.

The green bin currently goes to an anaerobic digester in Bedford.

One of the advantages of the Amey plant in Old Wolverton, now in the process of commissioning, is that fertiliser creation will be done locally.

Previous rubbish contractors did collect pink and black sacks together but this meant the full vehicle had to visit the recycling factory at Old Wolverton and then make the long journey to the landfill site for the black sacks. Separate lorries means a full journey to the one or the other site, tip out and return to collection. Overall, much quicker.

There is no blue box lorry as such - glass is put in an under-chassis receptacle.

Interesting column

I'VE just read Jon Brett's column in your paper (OneMK, February 17). It was really interesting and I hope he repeats it.

My wife and I love eating out and since we moved to Milton Keynes 18 months ago we have struggled to find anywhere decent to eat. We do hope Jon will help us out in our quest.

Name and address supplied

Excellent bus service

THANK you so much for publicising the possible withdrawal of the excellent 24/25 circular bus route service (OneMK, February 17).

This is one of the cleverest routes in Milton Keynes. Whoever thought of it should be congratulated. It saves us having to go into the city centre to change to a different bus to go back out in a different direction.

From where I live, on the 24 or 25 I can get to both Bletchley and MK railway stations, to the shops in Bletchley, Kingston, the city centre, the new Morrisons and Westcroft shops and best of all these buses serve Coachway every hour, plus they stop near enough to walk up to the Shenley Retirement Village.

It is the only bus that connects Newport Pagnell with the Open University. Needless to say, it also stops at the hospital.

I believe that this service is vital for people who work in more out of the way places and I do hope you will hear from some of them.

Welcome new arrivals

I THINK we all agree that Milton Keynes is booming; it has a vibrant economy and a wide range of cultural and leisure activities for its residents.

Yes, there are different views over its future direction in things such as city-centre parking and further housing developments but these are disagreements over 'how', not 'if'. And, sadly, there are some estates that are seen to be 'deprived' but even they have some great communities living on them.

This success has all been achieved by being open - to new people, new ideas and new ways of doing things: Milton Keynes has succeeded by welcoming new arrivals.

In a few month's time, we will be asked for our views on whether the United Kingdom should remain in the European Union. An argument often put by those who want to leave is there are too many outsiders coming here, especially from eastern Europe; the country is full and there aren't enough jobs. Nonsense. The country is not full - parts of the UK have extremely low densities of population. Nor is there a 'fixed number' of jobs with new arrivals taking limited opportunities from Brits. As with Milton Keynes, new arrivals present new opportunities, create new businesses and new jobs. I defy anyone to provide evidence of 'hordes of European migrants' coming to this country just to claim benefits - they all come here to work because our economy is booming, just the same as an unemployed person moving from Newcastle or Liverpool might come to get a job in MK. Most Europeans will go back to their own countries after a few years, taking with them, we hope, pleasant memories of their time in this country, speaking better English and spreading the word about what a great place this is.

I am sure that the original townsfolk and villagers of this part of Buckinghamshire felt great trepidation about the building of the New Town. Nevertheless, it has been a great success. We must all face up to the challenges of a changing world and I suggest that being part of Europe is a better way of doing that than trying to cut ourselves off.

Rat poison alert for dog owners

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

A DOG owner wants to warn others after he found what he believes to be a rat poison cake in Loughton Valley Park.

The Parks Trust, which owns the area, is now investigating and has taken what Robert Dickson found for tests.

Mr Dickson's three-year-old Jack Russell Bramble became violently sick last Wednesday night and he didn't know what might have caused it, until his other dog Pip ran over to him the next day with what looked like a raw beef burger.

"At first I thought it might be the worming treatment we gave Bramble," said Mr Dickson. "She was sick, then had diarrhoea and started shaking and drinking a lot of water. But the next day Pip came running over to me with what at first looked like a raw beef burger in her mouth."

"I was able to prize it away and realised it was a solid lump containing corn, wheat and other bits."

"It was hard, had a pinkish colour and smelled strongly of strawberries. I believe this to be a poison cake."

The 51-year-old antiques dealer, who lives in Bradwell Village, is concerned this poison could not only affect dogs, but with its unusual strawberry smell, he fears it could attract wildlife and children.

He added: "Any wildlife could pick it up, or even children. The park is a very popular dog walking spot with people from Stony Stratford and Wolverton."

"I don't know if it is nearby businesses being careless and chucking it out for rats or someone is targeting foxes. But poisoning dogs is a criminal offence with £20,000 fines."

HiMO manager fined over a lack of action

THE manager of a house in multiple occupation (HiMO), who failed to tackle a lack of working smoke alarms and evidence of rat and cockroach infestations has been left more than £20,000 out of pocket.

Gary Drewett, of Portishead Drive, Tattenhoe, was convicted in his absence at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court on Friday of breaching the Management of Houses in Multiple Occupation (England) Regulations 2006.

The affected property was in Burnmoor Close, Bletchley. A council housing officer visited the property in July and August but issues hadn't been resolved.

Vote for Henry Allen Trust

ONEMK's charity of the year, The Henry Allen Trust, is asking for readers' help to buy the first disabled swing in Milton Keynes.

The charity has been shortlisted for a grant from Tesco and could be awarded £8,000,

£10,000 or £12,000 if people vote for it in their nearest store. Charity director Dawn Allen said she hopes the swing could be the start of a sensory area at Chestpout Park.

Driver guilty of schoolboy death

Guilty: Christopher Mallett was found guilty of causing the death of Mohammed Ali Ahmed, below

BY CHRIS KNIGHT
chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

A BLETCHLEY lorry driver has been found guilty of causing the death of a schoolboy by dangerous driving.

Christopher Mallett, 34, of Clyde Place, crashed his DAF lorry cab into the back of a stationary Toyota RAV4 on the southbound dual carriageway of the A4146 by Stoke Hammond on March 20, 2015.

Mohammed Ali Ahmed, seven, was killed in the crash at about 2.17pm near the junction with the B4032 Leighton Road.

Investigating officer PC Sandra Terry said: "I hope

Mallett's conviction will bring some sense of justice to Mohammed's family.

"Our thoughts are with his family at this extremely distressing time."

Mallett had told an officer at the scene: "I was driving along and I thought the car was driving slowly with its hazards on. I didn't realise it was stopped until it was too late."

Michael Hayton QC, defending, said: "He may have seen the vehicle in the distance but not appreciated that it was an obstacle."

Mallett denied the charge, but was unanimously found guilty by the jury at Amersham Crown Court on Friday morning.

He is due back for sentencing on March 7.

Prisoner accused of trying to kill inmate

A MURDERER at HMP Woodhill, locked up for the rest of his life, tried to kill another lifer in the hope he would be moved to another prison, a court heard.

Gary Vinter, 46, is accused of attempting to murder fellow killer Lee Newell in the exercise yard at 9.25am on November 27, 2014.

Mark Kupczyk, a senior officer in the close supervision centre at HMP Woodhill, yesterday told a jury the injuries he saw on Newell were the worst he had seen behind bars in 21 years of service.

The trial continues at Luton Crown Court. See onemk.co.uk

Yellow letters for car park

NATIONAL Car Parks (NCP) has confirmed it will paint yellow letters in all of its bays by the centre:mk to help avoid confusion.

The move comes after numerous complaints from drivers who received parking tickets after paying at the wrong machines.

Roger Ashley, the NCP's head of operations for Anglia, said: "The last thing we want to do is upset customers. They are the most important part of the business and we want them to have a pleasant experience."

There will also be more yellow NCP branding throughout the car park.

Shock: Angela and Kevin Devine with the BHS label, which was covering one for George at Asda

BHS in label probe

BY PHILIP MCELENEY
philip.mcelaney@onemk.co.uk

BRITISH Home Stores (BHS) has launched an investigation after it sold a top with a BHS label glued over the top of one for Asda.

Angela Devine, 59, bought a grey knit top from the store in the centre:mk, but after she had worn it once she checked the label and noticed it was thicker than she expected.

She was left baffled when she saw the BHS washing instructions label had been glued over the top of one for George at Asda.

Mrs Devine, who paid around £17.50 for the heart-printed top in the sale, said: "When you buy clothes in BHS you expect them to be BHS clothes.

"It's a bit shocking really. I know these manufacturers supply lots of stores but you wouldn't think they would so blatantly cover it up.

"We wouldn't have paid the same amount for the product if we bought it in Asda, so I feel a bit cheated."

BHS gave Mrs Devine a £30 voucher and wrote to say it was investigating the Milton Keynes store.

BHS later said the item was a BHS product. A spokesman said: "The item in question was labelled incorrectly by our supplier, who also produces clothing for a number of retailers. All affected items were recalled as soon as the error was discovered but unfortunately a small amount had been sold before the recall.

"We sincerely apologise for any inconvenience caused."

WHAT YOU SAID

Tina Webster: "They should just get over it, it's only a jumper."

Rachael Joyce: "Well she got a £30 BHS voucher out of it. Wonder if she is off to Asda to spend it."

Lindsay Marriott: "It is likely that BHS has bought a cancelled Asda order and it has been relabelled."

Homes planned for old Aldi site

BY PHILIP MCELENEY
philip.mceleney@onemk.co.uk

A PROPOSAL for 184 new homes, including a nine-storey apartment block, went on show yesterday.

The proposal for the development along Saxon Street in Bletchley is being prepared as a planning application and the exhibition aimed to gauge local reaction and get responses.

The proposal would see the disused Aldi building and The Enigma Tavern site built on, but the Burger King would stay.

At present there would be 170 parking spaces for the 184 homes – which range from terraced town houses to apartments – although 30 per cent of the homes would be 'affordable'.

Councillor Mohammed Khan, who represents Bletchley East on Milton

Keynes Council, was excited about the proposal.

"I'm supportive of this kind of development and I'm ambitious about seeing Bletchley change," he said.

Cllr Khan also said there were early talks to sell the Co-op building to another buyer, who may use it to house restaurants and bars.

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes &

Leighton Buzzard areas and manager Stephen Moon agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

Poles helped to break the code

chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

BLETCHLEY Park has confirmed Polish codebreakers played an 'extremely important' role in cracking the Enigma code, after recent claims their role had been overlooked in history.

The cracking of the code for German signals is recognised as having a vital impact in bringing the Second World War to its conclusion – an act which was celebrated in recent blockbuster film The Imitation Game.

But the early role of Polish codebreakers in deciphering the earlier Enigma codes is one that is not so widely understood.

And in response to the feeling of it being overlooked in history, the Polish government has recently unveiled a touring exhibition called Enigma – Decipher Victory to educate visitors on the country's contribution.

A spokesman for Bletchley Park said: "The early work in breaking Enigma which Poland shared with Britain and France in the days before the start of the Second World

Remembered: The Polish Memorial at Bletchley Park

War, was extremely important.

"The baton then passed to the codebreakers at Bletchley Park, who were able to develop the industrial processes and machinery necessary to deliver success in breaking daily-changing Enigma settings, producing intelligence that proved vital in helping the Allies win the war.

"The story of the early successes of the Polish cryptanalysts is incorporated in all of Bletchley Park's storytelling including exhibitions, the guidebook, free multimedia guides, guided tours of the site and, not least, is commemorated with the Polish Memorial in the grounds."

Polish mathematicians Marian Rejewski, Jerzy Rozyski and Henryk Zygalski all began deciphering German cryptographers' communications in 1932.

They met a British contingent in July, 1933 to outline their codebreaking methods based on mathematical techniques.

John Gallehawk, a guide at neighbouring The National Museum of Computing, has researched the history of Bletchley Park and he believes the work of the Poles 'gave the British a head start' in cracking the code.

He said: "I think the Enigma code would have been broken eventually, but the Poles accelerated it.

"They demonstrated it could be broken at a time when many – including the Germans – thought it unbreakable."

MY BUSINESS IS MY PENSION OR IS IT?

I have lost count of the number of times that I have been in a meeting with a business owner and they have told me that they don't believe in pensions or that they don't need a pension as their business is their pension! This is despite the fact that more businesses fail than survive their first 10 years!

If you are a business owner, hopefully your business will not fall into the "failure" category. However even if your business doesn't fail, are you confident that you will be able to realistically sell your business when you retire? If not, will the business need you to carry on working in it to survive and to provide you with an income? If so, you need to ask yourself, how will you finance your retirement or will you even be able to have a retirement?

If you are relying on the state pension, you can look forward to a financially challenging retirement. If you cannot afford to retire, do you really want to work for the rest of your life?

Tony Byrne
Managing Director
Wealth And Tax
Management

Before you convince yourself that you don't need a pension, let me give you some reasons why you should not only have a pension, but you should also maximise your pension arrangements.

Firstly, it should be noted that a pension is nothing more than a tax efficient trust or business trust if you like. It has several unique features and benefits such as;

1. Ring fencing your assets against creditors, bankruptcy, bailiffs, debt collectors etc.
 2. Tax free growth.
 3. Borrowing to buy commercial property.
 4. Borrowing to buy plant and machinery.
 5. Funds to invest in your own business subject to qualifying conditions.
 6. Tax free lump sum at retirement.
 7. Unlimited income for life subject to you not depleting your pension fund fully.
 8. Tax relief at your highest tax rate on contributions into your scheme subject to contribution limits.
- So no matter what happens to your business you can secure your retirement by maximising your pension tax reliefs and allowances.

Importantly, it is possible that pension tax reliefs may change in the budget on 16th March 2016. You should therefore consider any pension planning without delay.

We are offering a free pension review worth £470 to the first 10 people who contact us before 29th March 2016. This offer is subject to qualifying conditions.

We offer a great cup of coffee too!

ONEMK has teamed up with the centre:mk to offer five family tickets to The Gruffalo Experience coming to the shopping centre this Easter.

As OneMK has previously reported, this is the world's only Gruffalo Experience – open to the public from March 19 until April 10 – and tickets are selling fast.

Set in Middleton Hall, it is a chance for children to interact with the characters from the much-loved children's book, written by Julia Donaldson.

The fully interactive, 45-minute experience will take children through the deep dark wood, as if they've walked onto the pages of the Gruffalo, with trees, bright red and white toadstools, grass, boulders, logs and the occasional fox hole.

Shaun Rhodes, head of marketing at the centre:mk, said: "We are thrilled that The Gruffalo Experience has chosen the centre:mk as the next stop on its UK tour."

"This is a unique and exceptional family experience for all lovers of the Gruffalo books and we hope to attract both existing and new fans to this childhood bedtime favourite."

The five family tickets are for a special VIP day on Friday, March 18 and are valid for two adults and two children.

For your chance to be a winner answer this question:

Who wrote The Gruffalo?

A. Michael Murpurgo

B. JK Rowling

C. Julia Donaldson

Send your answer to OneMK, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, MK15 0DU, or enter at onemk.co.uk by March 2. The editor's decision is final.

‘I’m scared to leave home after robbery’

BY CHRIS KNIGHT
chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

A DISABLED woman says she is ‘scared’ to go out alone after she was injured and robbed of her handbag outside The Point.

June Harrison, 52, of Dodkin, Beanhill, was on her way to Gala Bingo with a friend at about 6.30pm on February 10 when she was attacked.

She was pushed to the ground and her handbag, which contained cash and bank cards, was stolen by the robber.

Mrs Harrison received treatment at Milton Keynes University Hospital for a sprained elbow and bruising to her leg and now says she is afraid to leave her home alone.

She said: “I have never had anything like this happen to me before.

“It has scared me – I’m now really jumpy and suspicious when I shouldn’t need to be. Even in A&E at the hospital, I felt physically sick when a man approached me, which was completely irrational.

“I have not been out on my own since. I never really went anywhere on my own before for medical reasons, but now it is because I’m scared.”

Mrs Harrison, who suffers from arthritis and brain conditions, works as a volunteer in Woughton with the Community Events Group.

She has been going to bingo for 30 years with friends and family, but says the idea of going back anytime soon makes her feel ‘sick’.

She added: “I always thought the city centre was safe because of CCTV, but this has opened my eyes.”

Anyone with information should call 101.

Join fashion show to celebrate talent

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

A NEW summer fashion show wants to attract Milton Keynes designers and independent shops.

The Run Your Way fashion show will be taking place at Wonderland in Xscape.

Some local boutiques have already signed up, as well as high street brands.

Organiser Gemma Burnikell, from GM Events, said: "Run Your Way is designed for inspiration and creativity, unlike other fashion shows that currently take place in Milton Keynes, which are predominantly high street focused with an expensive price tag."

"Milton Keynes is very up and coming for the 18-30 generation with new opportunities arising all the time and I want to keep the talent of MK here, instead of them branching into London for 'cool', 'hipster' trends in Shoreditch or Dalston."

The fashion show will take place on Friday, July 29 and will include a champagne reception, catwalk, entertainment, goody bag and an inspiration corner.

The event, supported by OneMK, aims to attract more than 400 people and hopes to promote all the local fashionistas and boutiques hidden in our high streets.

OneMK's editor Cally Jenkins said: "There are some excellent clothes shops in places like Olney and Stony Stratford and it is great to see this event aiming to promote these businesses and the talent we have here in Milton Keynes."

To find out more, or sign up to take part in the show, email hi@gemmediamk.co.uk

What the budget

AFTER a heated discussion between political parties last Wednesday night, the Milton Keynes Council budget for 2016/7 was passed with 22 votes in favour, 21 against and 11 abstentions. The authority has to save at least £22million in 2016/2017 following central government funding cuts, but how will this be done and what does it actually mean for you?

Labour leader Cllr Pete Marland said: "I have to make a difficult decision as leader of Milton Keynes Council.

"I am not for the budget or supporting it, but we have to do it to balance the books.

"I think this is a good and solid budget but I wouldn't approve it if I had the choice.

"I move it with a heavy heart because the council has to."

Conservative leader Cllr Edith Bald commented: "This budget has the hallmark of short-termism – the council is stuck at a red light. The admin haven't run the budget successfully and I can't see that changing.

"Last year at the budget I said the council was not only facing the prospect of driverless cars but also a driverless council. And so it has happened."

Liberal Democrats leader Cllr Douglas McCall said: "If members of the public think this budget is bad then I am afraid to say that there are two more years at least to come of even more cuts.

So, if you are not happy about that prospect then write to your two Tory MPs and complain and get them to stand up for MK.

"This budget is better than last year's."

will mean for you

Council tax

The council is enforcing a 1.95 per cent increase in council tax, as well as a two per cent precept to be used exclusively on adult and social care, which was one of the biggest areas of overspend this year.

In short, this will mean a 3.95 per cent rise in your council tax bill. The average household in Milton Keynes will therefore pay an extra £57.31 next year, with some paying more than £100 extra.

Waste

The council will now charge about £36 each year for garden waste collection. A fee for the service ended in 2009 and the council hopes reintroducing a charge could help it balance the books in the face of government cuts. The council says it hopes the charge for garden waste collection could help save £1.3million across two years.

Recycling

Instead of pink sacks, the council is to trial reusable recycling bags in some estates before rolling it out across Milton Keynes. The heavy duty bags could save up to £500,000 this year.

Health

After uproar from sheltered housing residents, their wardens will not be cut. But from April this year those currently not paying towards the role will be charged £5 a week. The council has also protected the health visitor service that supports new parents and young children.

Play areas

Some council-owned play parks that are unused may be closed by the council in a bid to improve and expand the more popular parks. A public consultation will take place but the hope is to save more money.

Invite to help make park fit for a Queen

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

THE Parks Trust staff and volunteers are set to take part in one of the UK's largest litter picks.

Clean for The Queen is a call for volunteers to join the litter pick and help get areas looking their very best in the year of The Queen's 90th birthday.

The Milton Keynes litter pick will take place at Stanton Low Park from 10am to noon on Saturday, March 5.

The Clean for the Queen campaign director, Adrian Evans, said: "Our ambition is to create a community inspired, grass-roots mass action event – one that will become a recurring annual initiative. We feel that marking The Queen's 90th birthday with the inaugural clean-up is a wonderful way to kick-start it to life."

The Parks Trust head of community engagement,

Briony Fox, added: "Being part of Clean for the Queen means we can encourage more people to get involved so that everyone can enjoy a cleaner place to live."

If you want to help, meet in the car park off Selkirk Drive, Oakridge Park.

Litter pickers, gloves and sacks will be provided. Wear sensible clothing and footwear.

Classics Central is your local classic car auction house, specialising in modern classics and chrome bumper favourites. With 75 lots on offer at their sale this Sunday at the Bedford Autodrome, there is sure to be something for everyone who is looking for the excitement of their first (or next) classic car.

Headlining their sale is a 1973 BMW E9 CSL 3.0, one of only 500 UK-delivered CSLs which were homologated for Group 2 of the European Touring Car Championship – a series the CSL won on five consecutive occasions. Also of special interest is the 1981 Ford Capri MkIII Janspeed Turbo – believed one of four produced for Ford's Special Vehicles Division as part of a Capri "supercar" trial project.

Owned by classic car collector and enthusiast Justin Lazic, Classics Central's third sale promises to be every bit as exciting as their September and November 2015 efforts, the latter of which saw two world auction records set: £15,000 + premium for a Ford Cortina MkIII, and £15,000 + premium for a Ford Escort MkIII RS1600i.

On the eve of the 28 February sale to be held next Sunday, Justin said "With 30 manufacturers represented, spanning models from 1954 to 2009, there is plenty to choose

"Where Live's are Changed"

Diabetes sufferer is in new ad campaign

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

A DIABETES sufferer is featuring in a new national campaign about the condition.

Abdul Rais, 63, can be seen in TV, online and print adverts promoting a free book published by the charity Diabetes UK.

Interpreter Abdul, who is from a Pakistani Muslim background, is in the new '100 things I wish I'd known about diabetes' campaign, which sees people living with the condition sharing their advice with others.

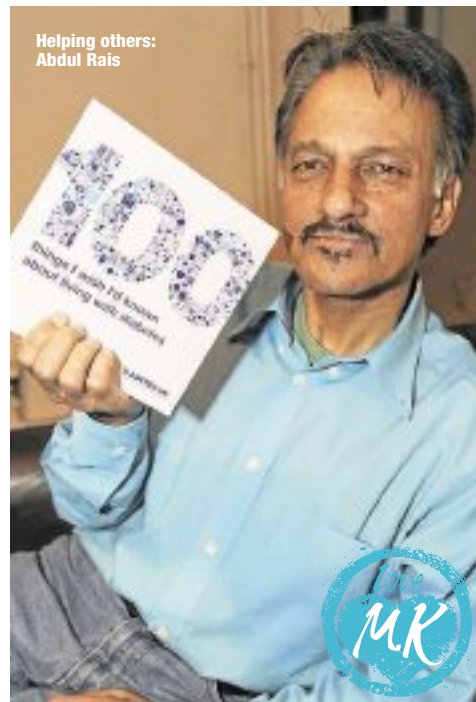

He was diagnosed with Type 2 diabetes in 1999 and supports people in the community to improve management of their condition.

Abdul, of Bradwell Common, said: "Early diagnosis is very important and so is taking control of your own body."

"Diabetes in people in the South Asian community is five times greater compared to the white community and nobody ever suggested to me that I should get blood sugar levels tested because of that."

The Diabetes UK book is full of everyday tips offered by people living with diabetes for other people living with the condition who wish to know more about it.

Making Friends of students

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

A CITY school is giving sixth form students more freedom by providing them with their own coffee shop.

Similar to a scene from popular TV sitcom Friends, Year 12 and 13 students at Denbigh School, in Burchard Crescent, Shenley Church End, can now chill out in the cafe in between lessons after the area was created for them in January.

It isn't just the students who benefit though, as teachers can also use the coffee shop, run by Cucina.

There is also a card and fingerprint check to identify the age of the students in the shop.

Year 11 students are allowed to order coffee through a hatch outside the shop, which means only sixth form students and teachers can go inside.

"It's really nice and it's better than having to go out for this sort of thing," said Isha Negi, 17.

Denbigh School's business manager, Sylvia Bebbington, said: "We wanted to make a facility that was special for the sixth formers."

"To move away from the traditional canteen and create something for them is great and they love it."

As well as the coffee shop, themed school dinners are also available to all students in a new restaurant, with the Chinese New Year being one of the most recent.

Parents put money on a card so their children can pay for their meals, allowing them to check what they have eaten for lunch.

The 'restaurant-in-a-school' approach represents a radical departure from the conventional school canteen model, attracting students to a range of food that is constantly changing.

Charlotte McKenna, 13, says she loves the new school dinners.

"It's really great because there is so much food that we can choose from and we can change what we eat," she said.

Headteacher Andy Squires said: "You can't underestimate the impact of providing this service to students."

"Parents seem generally positive about it and we are really pleased because we are making school dinners something that the students want to have."

"With the coffee shop it is about treating sixth formers like adults."

Special: Both sixth formers and teachers benefit from Denbigh School's new coffee shop

Outstanding Ofsted score for Hanslope

HANSLOPE School is celebrating after it was rated 'outstanding' in a recent Ofsted inspection. Ofsted – which regulates and inspects services providing education – inspects schools and rates them as outstanding, good, requiring improvement or inadequate.

Hanslope's headteacher, Mr Ryan Fensham-Brown, was delighted with the result. He said: "Our vision at Hanslope School is to prepare each and every child for a lifetime of learning, within an evolving, diverse world and I am really pleased that Ofsted have recognised the outstanding quality of education we are providing our pupils with."

MK College cooks win prize

THREE catering students from Milton Keynes College won the 'opportunity of a lifetime' last Monday by beating strong competition to receive the prestigious Zest Quest Asia 2016 award.

After a day of hard work in the kitchen at renowned chef Cyrus Todiwala's restaurant, located at the Hilton London Heathrow Terminal 5, the team from MK College were named winners at a gala dinner.

The trio of Jessica

Hopcraft, Crystall Flemming and Jake Stokes impressed the judges during the day's cook-off, demonstrating their top-class techniques by serving four delicious courses based around an Asian theme.

The four courses included a Vietnamese Trio, Ca Kho bream, sticky pork and a banana banh flan made with Milton Keynes honey.

The cook-off was designed to highlight the wealth of career opportunities in Asian cuisine for learners from all backgrounds and represented the culmination of months of preparation from the college's catering team and their restaurant, The Brasserie.

Jessica said: "I'm so happy that Milton Keynes College has won Zest Quest 2016. You meet amazing people and we're going to Bangkok as our prize – it's the opportunity of a lifetime and a fantastic experience."

Nerd image needs to change, says student

THE image that IT is for nerds is one that needs to be shelved.

That is what Rhoda Edoyibo, from St Paul's Catholic School in Leadenhall, believes after she attended a Network Rail competition at the Quadrant:MK.

The competition, for 16 to 18-year-olds, was designed to raise awareness of career opportunities in the IT industry and young women were asked how technology could improve lives. All the entries were whittled down to a long list of around 90 and they were invited to a finalists' day for a series of assessments and presentations and to meet some of Network Rail's most inspiring female workers. The winner of the competition, which will be announced on March 11, will get their first year of university fees paid.

Rhoda said: "I just think you have this picture of a nerd living at their computer and that can change in more creative ways," said the 17-year-old from Coffee Hall.

Fellow student Brigitte Gyekye, 17, from Springfield, believes that IT is the way forward.

"IT enables you to explore more and it's a way to get your creativity out. Coming here helps my perspective at what business is like."

Councillor, ex-MP and mayor to retire

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

ARGUING with John Prescott over whether stadiummk should be built was among the memories recalled by councillor Brian White.

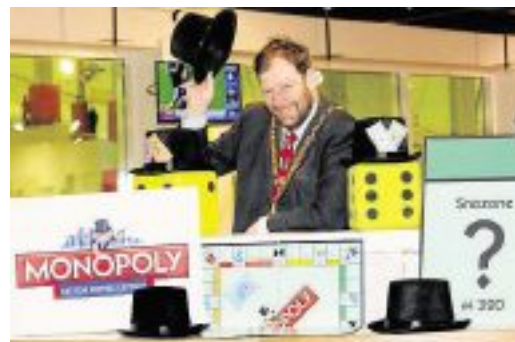

The Milton Keynes councillor – who announced last Wednesday night he would be retiring – was first elected in 1987 and had two terms as an MP, as well being the city's mayor in 2013.

During his time as councillor, he has created a borough-wide recycling system for the city and negotiated for Milton Keynes to be a unitary authority.

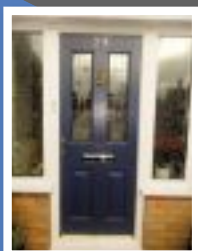

But one of his best memories is an argument with John Prescott over planning permission for stadiummk.

He said: "There are quite a number of things I will remember. Arguing with John Prescott over whether stadiummk should be allowed to get planning permission or not and winning that argument is one of them."

Brian has bought a villa in Spain and now intends to write books on the history of the city.

Going to Spain: Brian White is skipping off to a villa where he plans to write books about MK, which has its own version of Monopoly

Forest of Fools will debut second release at MKII

THE wait is over and the much-anticipated second release from Forest of Fools – titled Jump-up Folk – will be debuted at MKII in Kiln Farm on Friday.

The launch of the EP is the culmination of 18 months of gigging and composition and the honing of the Jump-up Folk genre – a joyous pastiche of tunes that just won't let those feet stand still for a minute.

Forest of Fools will unleash their eclectic mix of drum and bass-funk-folk-punk mash-up that seems set to tear apart clubs, dancefloors and festivals in the UK this year.

The band are a five-piece outfit consisting of Jez Gibbons, Gareth Warren, Chris 'Parkie' Parker, Jon Stacy and Jam O'Malley.

Tim Bamford, reporting on behalf of Boomtown Fair festival, labelled the band's performance last year as 'vibrant' and 'lively'. He added: "The brilliant divergence in the wonderful and uniquely-styled sounds they produce made for a fantastic closing act for our stage."

Forest of Fools will be supported on the night by FleetwoodCave and Tautas Roks.

Doors open for the launch party at 7:30pm and tickets for entry cost £3. For more information, visit www.mk11kilnfarm.com or call 01908 262924.

CIRCUS ZYAIR comes to Campbell Park for the next two weekends and you will be in for a real treat!

The shows lasts for about an hour-and-a-half and combines elements of the circus with music.

It will be a magical experience for the entire family and there will be an electric atmosphere for the high-altitude performers, bikers and others!

Show times are at 5pm and 7.30pm on Friday, 3pm and 6pm on Saturday and 11am and 3pm on Sunday.

There is a Friday special offer where seats cost £6.99 and on Saturday they're available for £7.99 each.

IF YOU have a pond in your garden, the chances are it has already attracted some amphibians to breed this year.

With the very mild temperatures we experienced in December, some people reported seeing frogs in their ponds before Christmas!

Frogs will emerge from hibernation during warm spells in winter but generally start congregating in ponds from early February onwards.

Toads on the other hand, tend to emerge from hibernation a little later, usually at the beginning of March.

We are fortunate in Milton Keynes that there are still several places where huge numbers of toads can be seen – and heard – as they mate and spawn.

THE Parks Trust's biodiversity officer, Martin Kincaid, tells MK Life readers about the frogs and toads in our area

At Howe Park Wood, there are two connected ponds just in front of the visitor and education centre that play host to a toad colony for about two weeks each March. If you time your visit right, you will be able to enjoy one of the great British wildlife spectacles, as hundreds, even thousands, of common toads congregate in the margins of the ponds.

Shortly after mating, the female produces her eggs which are protected by a gelatinous string or ribbon, quite unlike the jelly mass of frogspawn.

Of course, such large numbers of toads will attract predators and it's not unusual to see a motionless heron waiting to strike.

By midsummer, the surviving tadpoles will have morphed into miniature froglets and toadlets and will begin the perilous journey from the ponds into areas of long grass. At this time they may be preyed on, not only by birds, but also grass snakes, rodents, badgers, cats and even hedgehogs.

So if you do have toads in your garden and even toad spawn in your pond, it is something to be treasured.

Gig guide

PACKED full of crude jokes, pop culture gags and violent executions, Deadpool is the superhero movie Marvel fans have been waiting for.

After what feels like decades in film-making purgatory, Ryan Reynolds finally reprises the role of the anti-hero who last cameoed in X-Men Origins: Wolverine back in 2009.

Reynolds plays Wade Wilson, a fast-talking gun for hire whose life is turned upside down when he is diagnosed with terminal cancer.

Wilson's transformation from mercenary to mutant typically comes via experimental medical treatment and it is here we are introduced to villain of the piece, Ajax (played by Brit Ed Skrein).

As a superhero movie, Deadpool is much closer to Matthew Vaughn's Kick-Ass than your friendly neighbourhood Spiderman.

Director Tim Miller deconstructs the much-covered genre throughout, including an opening credits where movie stereotypes are ticked off one by one (such as British villain). But as the plot progresses and the hilarity is sustained, the potty-mouthed protagonist becomes just like any other superhero when his girlfriend Vanessa (Morena Baccarin) comes under threat.

Deadpool 2 is already believed to be in the works, and if you're a fan of the genre this is one you won't want to miss.

■ The film can be seen at Cineworld and Odeon. Check onemk.co.uk for showing times.

MILTON Keynes City Orchestra's latest concert is a showcase of the imagination and creativity that music director Damian Iorio brings to creating the new season.

The three pieces start with a wonderful operatic overture from Cimarosa, followed by the unexpected, a somewhat eccentric piece from Haydn (Symphony No.45) and finally the powerful Symphony No.40 by Mozart.

This concert on Friday, March 4, at The Venue, Walton High, promises to provide a musical memory to cherish.

Tickets cost £10-£22 and are available at mkco.org

Kathryn's best offer to date

The market in Milton Keynes for 4 bed properties and bungalows is incredibly strong right now with some offers being agreed within just days of marketing.

Kathryn explains, "With this in mind, I would like to reflect this in my commission fees, which is why I am offering a realistic and appropriate lower fee to sell for the next 10 weeks".

Continuing, Kathryn says "I have often felt it is unfair that many vendors are penalised by paying a high fee when it is clear the market is thriving and their property is likely to sell quickly. This won't happen if you sell through my estate agency and I will provide a full service of the highest quality with all aspects handled personally by me at all times".

Volvo Cars Reveals Stylish And Versatile New V90 Estate

The eagerly awaited Volvo V90 was revealed today in Stockholm, Sweden. The stylish and versatile V90 is the latest in the premium car maker's top-of-the-line 90 series, sitting alongside the award-winning XC90 SUV and the recently launched S90 premium saloon.

Building on Volvo Cars' indisputable heritage in the estate segment, which began more than 60 years ago with the Volvo Duett, the new V90 takes the premium estate a clear step forward in terms of aesthetics, materials and finish, while living up to the ultimately practical nature of any true estate.

The new V90 is the third car unveiled in Volvo's top-of-the-line 90 series, all of which are built on the company's specially designed and fully modular Scalable Product Architecture (SPA), which has opened up a range of new opportunities in terms of how Volvos can be designed, built and equipped.

The new V90 delivers cutting-edge Pilot Assist semi-autonomous drive technology, the most advanced standard safety package on the market, including Large Animal Detection and Run-off Road Mitigation, and class-leading connectivity, including smartphone integration with Apple CarPlay.

Volvo Cars has also worked tirelessly on driving dynamics in the new model, to deliver a totally new and refined driving experience characterised by a sense of engaging control and predictability.

Volvo's PowerPulse technology is designed to deliver a distinct performance boost to the diesel engine, while the T8 Twin Engine petrol plug-in hybrid will deliver around 410 hp and a pure electric range of around 31 miles.

Jeep Renegade

BREAKING THE MOULD

The Jeep Renegade is a genuinely smart piece of product design, distilling Jeep's brand values into a smaller package while leaning on the smartest technology the Fiat Group has to offer. If you eat squirrel, own a bowling ball and call your first cousin your spouse, chances are you're going to hate it. Otherwise, read on.

The Renegade offers a wide range of engines. For petrol people, there's an entry-level 110bhp 1.6 eTorq unit or, if you want petrol but need extra power, there's a 1.4-litre TMair powerplant with either 140 or 170bhp and the option of a DDCT auto gearbox. If you're looking at a diesel, there's a 120bhp 1.6-litre MJet unit or a 2.0-litre MJet option with either 140 or 170bhp. You'll need the 170bhp TMair petrol unit or the 2.0-litre MJet diesel if you want your car with 4WD.

The car's advanced 4x4 system incorporates a category-exclusive rear axle disconnect that switches seamlessly between two and four-wheel-drive for reduced energy loss when 4x4 capability isn't needed, improving fuel efficiency in the process. And the first-in-segment nine-speed automatic transmission ensures benchmark performance both on and off-road.

As much as I thought I'd dislike the Jeep Renegade, I couldn't help but love the styling. Yes, there are some angles where it looks a bit like a Kia Soul that's been on the hard stuff but it's well-resolved, features lovely tight overhangs and some very cool detailing. What is particularly interesting is the way the design features some very traditional Jeep design cues but isn't afraid to twist them a bit into something resolutely modern-looking. That aspect you will either love or hate.

Cover up the badges inside the car and, yes, you would probably think you were in a Fiat product, but if you've had a look at the latest Fiat range, that's no bad thing. There's a complexity to the fascia that's a long way from the cheap plastics and slab-sided architectures that many associate with Jeep. It's a bit pinched in the back, but then that comes with the territory when you've got this little length to play with.

Jeep needed an entrant in the growing small crossover segment and the Renegade looks like a competitive entrant into this growing sector. Many wondered what would happen to Jeep when Fiat got involved. If the Cherokee and this Renegade is any form guide, we needn't have worried.

Land Rover figured out long ago that it couldn't sustain itself on just the old traditional customers. Jaguar and Jeep are working that out too. Lotus hasn't quite got there yet. It's a bold new frontier, but the rewards are there if you're prepared to tear up the rule book. That's what might be deemed a Renegade attitude.

Bletchley Leisure Centre to host new project

A NEW, inclusive squash concept has been launched throughout the UK and people in Milton Keynes are being encouraged to sign up at Bletchley Leisure Centre to see what it's all about.

Squash 101 has been designed by England Squash to get as many people as

WALKING FOOTBALL

Expanding: Milton Keynes MaD Walkers Football Club

Why run when you can walk!

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

MILTON KEYNES MaD WALKERS are going from strength to strength with the help of OneMK.

The Walking Football team started in October 2014 as an initiative of the MK Make a Difference organisation (hence the club's 'MaD' name).

From only two or three players in the first couple of weeks, club chairman Stephen Johnson said an article in this newspaper helped the club expand rapidly, with 14 players turning up the next week.

Stephen said: "From only two or three players in the first couple of weeks, an article in the newspaper really had an immediate impact, with 14 players turning up the next week, and things have blossomed since then."

The club was officially formed in early 2015 and membership now nears 40 players.

Stephen says that the club has a really good group of players and is open to men and women aged over 18, although most of the members are in the 50 - 70 year age group.

The most heard comment from newcomers is invariably 'it's the first time I've kicked the ball for 20 years and I loved it'.

A sponsor has also been found in the shape of SDE Civils and Drainage, which has supplied the team with match-day kits.

The team has proved an immediate success on the pitch, winning the inaugural Berks and Bucks Walking Football Tournament as well as competing successfully in other invitation events.

Regular friendly matches are also organised with teams from across the region including Stevenage, Towcester, Aylesbury, among many others.

Off the field recognition has followed with the club being short-listed for the nomination of 'Project of the Year' at the 2015 MK and Bucks Sports awards night.

The club currently play on Thursday nights from 8pm to 9pm, on the AstroTurf at Woughton College Campus.

The club is also looking to expand, with a Monday daytime session from 11am to 12 noon at Woughton-on-the Green (AstroTurf), starting on Monday.

The club has its own Facebook page and can also be found on the web at '<http://mkmad-walkersfc.simdif.com/>'.

Skier bags podium finishes at national contest in Italy

BY SPORTS REPORTER
editor@onemk.co.uk

SKIER Lucinda Dilworth was ecstatic to have rounded off her English Alpine Championship campaign in style, after earning podium finishes in Bormio on Thursday and Friday.

The English Alpine Championships, organised by national governing body Snowsport England, help provide an early glimpse of the stars of tomorrow.

And with 400 of the country's best alpine skiers descending upon the Italian resort this week for the 20th running of the event, Dilworth – who lives in Newport Pagnell – had her work cut out.

But the 17-year-old Ousdale sixth form student put down two breathless runs in the Super G and Slalom disciplines on Thursday, taming the fearsome Stelvio piste to finish as third-fastest Brit in the under-18 Alpine Combined event.

Dilworth, who trains with the British Ski Academy, then returned on Friday to once again finish third in the Super G to end her week on a high note.

But after skiing out of both of the English national Slalom and GS races earlier in the week, Dilworth admitted there was still work to be done to improve before the end of the season.

She said: "I thought the Super G course on the final day was really nice. Very fun, very fast and Super G is always better the second time around."

"I think I skied it a lot better as well. I was far more confident after Thursday's run so I could attack the course a bit more and made way fewer mistakes.

"It's been quite a successful week. I would have liked to have finished more races and not come out, but that happens and to end up with two podiums at the end of the week is a good way to finish."

"I definitely hadn't expected that but I'm happy as it's a good achievement."

"Now I'm heading home for a week. I need to go back to school and rest for a bit, but then I'll be back out training in Les Houches with BSA."

"The British Championships are the next big races for me. Last year I really didn't do that well there so I'm desperate to finish more races. Hopefully this year will be different."

The English Alpine Championships are an important step for any young skier, with British Olympians Chemmy Alcott and Dave Ryding both having competed at the competition.

Alcott, now retired from racing and coaching her own team, CDC Performance, took in the action from the sidelines and believes she has already seen several future stars.

She added: "That's what British skiing is about now and it is fantastic to see us trying to be the best."

The English Alpine Championships, organised by Snowsport England, are run every year in the Italian resort of Bormio. Follow the action via www.englishalpinechamps.org.uk or @SnowsportEng on Twitter. FORMULA ONE

Red Bull unveil their new car for the Formula One season

IT HAS been a busy few days at Red Bull as the Tilbrook team gets ready for the new season.

Red Bull revealed their 2016 Formula One challenger, the RB12, with its striking matte livery in London last week.

The all-new RB12, powered by a TAG Heuer Renault engine, incorporates a host of improvements after last year's disappointments.

Talking about the last season, team principal, Christian Horner, is optimistic about the months ahead and they are looking to build on the progress made at the end of the 2015 season.

After the unveiling it was straight to the track for pre-season testing at the Circuit de Barcelona-Catalunya in Spain.

Daniel Ricciardo put in more than 100 laps with the best time of 1:23.525.

He said afterwards: "It was a good day. We did pretty much every run on our schedule and run plans are always pretty optimistic so I think we'll take that today."

CRICKET

WOLVERTON Town Cricket Club have their eyes firmly on the new season as indoor net sessions begin.

The club are inviting players old and new to join them at their net sessions on Monday evenings at Shenley Brook End School.

The net sessions for players from 15 run from 6-7.30pm. Junior sessions are due to start later in the spring.

ICE HOCKEY

MANCHESTER Phoenix were given a three goal start as MK Lightning slipped to a 3-2 defeat on Deeside on Sunday evening.

The defeat – combined with Guildford Flames' 6-3 success against Swindon Wildcats – means the Surrey side have moved above MK in the English Premier League table.

RUGBY UNION

TRAILING just behind the league leaders Bletchley Ladies, it was a must-win fixture for Olney Ladies and they managed to claim an 8-0 victory in a gruelling match. Centre Jenny Miles scored a first-half penalty to give the hosts a 3-0 lead at the break, before Leanne Sarjeant used her pace to score the game's only try.

SWIMMING

SWIMMER Jocelyn Ulyett came away from this year's BUCS Nationals in Sheffield with two gold medals in the women's 100m and 200m breaststroke.

Ulyett said: "The main aim is the Olympic trials so that's got my focus from now until Easter, and then next year I'll want to be back here to compete again."

Colleges Sport (BUCS) is the national governing body for Higher Education (HE) sport in the UK, organising leagues and competitions for more than 150 institutions across 52 different sports.

Partnered by Deloitte, BUCS supports athletes from a grass roots level through to Commonwealth and Olympic Games hopefuls.

Dons drop points at home to Huddersfield

BY CHRIS KNIGHT

chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

MK DONS conceded a late equaliser to draw 1-1 at home to fellow Championship strugglers Huddersfield Town last night.

Alex Revell's first goal for the club was cancelled out by Nakhi Wells' strike four minutes from time.

Dons edged the early exchanges and took the lead in the 28th minute.

After neat play from George Baldock and Dean Bowditch down the right, Jonny Williams lofted the ball into the six-yard box for Revell to power the header home.

Huddersfield's task was made even tougher soon after the restart, with substitute Philip Billing seeing red three minutes after coming on for a high challenge on Jake Forster-Caskey.

But the visitors levelled late on, after Wells raced clear and looped the ball over the onrushing Cody Cropper.

On Saturday, Dons suffered a disappointing 2-0 home defeat against struggling Bristol City. They travel to Blackburn on Saturday – another side battling to beat the drop.
